

DATA TYPES

Data types tell the computer what form our inputs should take during processing

INTEGER

Integers are great for cardinal numbers

STRING

Some languages assume all input is a string. Converting to another data type is called 'casting'.

REAL

A Real is also sometimes known as a float

CHAR

BOOLEAN

Charles Boole invented the concept of logic using just true or false

